ADVICE ABOUT YOUR WILL
This Document is the property of the Lake County Recorder!

1. Your Will is furnished you in an original and carbon copy. The original is the only one executed and should be placed where it may be protected against fire, theft, damage, or other loss. You may wish to mail it to your Executor or principal beneficiary for compliance with your Will.

2. The carbon copy of your Will is not executed and is furnished so that you may keep it with your personal files. It is recommended that you review this copy from time to time, bearing in mind its contents, and feel free at any time to take it to your Legal Assistance Officer or to take it to your own personal attorney for revision.

3. It is recommended that you redraft your Will following any important change in your family relations, such as your marriage or divorce, or the birth, adoption, or death of a member of your family.

4. You should bear in mind that your Will remains effective until actually destroyed or otherwise nullified by your clear and express action.

5. Do not try to change the Will yourself by crossing out or adding something. This will probably invalidate the entire Will. If you want to change it, see your Legal Assistance Officer or personal attorney and have him prepare a new Will for you.

6. As your Will becomes effective at time of death, it is highly advisable that you check your DA Form 41 (Record of Emergency Data), to be sure that you have properly taken care of your dependents in the event you are reported missing, missing in action, or in the event some other military circumstances prevent you from transmitting funds to your dependents.

7. It is the policy of the Department of the Army to accept for safekeeping the Wills of military personnel on active duty who request this service. If you desire this service, your Will should be enclosed in a sealed envelope bearing the name of the testator, his Army service number, and the name and address of the individual (and, also, the alternate individual) to whom the Will is to be delivered in event of death, and should be deposited with, or mailed in another envelope to, The Adjutant General, Headquarters, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. 20310.

8. Wills of dependents cannot be accepted for safekeeping by TAGO because TAGO ordinarily will not be informed of their deaths. Retired members and their dependents should not send their Wills to the Department of the Army for safekeeping.
